

Exercise 2: A Notes Application

Winter Term 2018/19

---

In order to introduce the paperless office, handwritten notes may be stored on a computer. This goal may be achieved by a simple notepad application. How could such an application look like? Which functionality should be provided? What are the relevant usability aspects? How can colors improve the usability? Which colors associate particular meanings to the user?

Design a graphical user interface for such a notepad application that incorporates the considerations discussed above. Use paper and a pencil to arrange the layout of your notepad application. Pay strong attention to usability.

Have fun, Theo and Ralf